Blouse

A close-up photograph of a traditional Indian lehenga choli. The garment is made of deep red velvet and is heavily embellished with intricate embroidery. The design features a combination of floral motifs, geometric patterns, and dense sequin work. The embroidery is done in multiple colors, including gold, silver, green, and pink. The fabric has a plush texture, and the overall appearance is one of luxury and elegance. The background is a light-colored wall with a subtle floral pattern.
